

An Easter Scavenger hunt brought to you by the EASTER BUNNY

First, go and find where a banana hangs & sits,

See if the clue in the next note fits.

Read it aloud for your crew.

The note there will bring you to your next clue.

You are ready to go outside,

Think about being so full of pride!

But first you need a coat,

Go there to find the next note.

Look where there is a tiny instrument that is not far.

It might be on some kind of bar.

It came here from far too.

There you can find the next clue.

Next find where you sit to view a movie,

Now wait before you flee.

It's not where you keep your feet,
But where your backside and seat meet.

Look where one of your faces stays.

It's not where anyone plays.

Don't think too long or you will get caught.

There you will find a clue to help you in the next spot.

Where might one go to find a cold cheese snack?

Keep thinking and you will get the knack.

Bring the whole crew

To find a note that is new.

Where might you run and run but get no place for real?

It's not a place for a meal.

Think about it, the little screen is always true.

There will be your next clue.

Go somewhere where there are tools.

There are also rules.

Treasures are made of wood

And the maker of them has often stood.

Find the next clue there if you could.

Next you will be finding the prize,

There are no lies,

GOOD LUCK!!!

Hopefully it will not be stuck.

Look where a superhero might hide out.

Where a remote might lounge about.
